CANADIAN LABOUR PARTY.
OTTAWA, Feb. 6.
The secretary of the Dominion Trades and Labour Congress says that the idea of placing Labour candidates in the field at the next Dominion elections in all cities of the Dominion has been discussed informally, but nothing has officially been done.
The Labour party in Canada has, he says, been inspired by the success of their brethren in Great Britain.

"WIRELESS."
Press Message Development.
New York, Feb. 5.
The most important development in connection with wireless telegraphy has just become known here. The Associated Press, which is the largest customer of cable companies in the world, is undertaking a series of experiments which, if successful, may entirely revolutionize the Transatlantic cable business. For several days wireless messages under a new system have been exchanged between Machrihanish, at the south-western end of the Mull of Kintyre and Plymouth Rock, on the coast of Massachusetts. The concern conducting these wireless experiments is the National Electric Signalling Company of America, but the messages are being sent and received by representatives of the Associated Press, which is the largest news agency in the world.

To ensure a thorough test of the system the special representative of the Associated Press at Machrihanish transmits his wireless messages in a cipher which is unknown to his colleagues on the other side of the Atlantic. Mr. Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press, says that the experiments so far give promise of a satisfactory result.

The importance of even such a guarded pronouncement is scarcely likely to be appreciated by English readers. Hitherto the Associated Press, except in the international yacht races, has been somewhat sceptical regarding the practical use of the various wireless systems. In the event of the British adopting wireless telegraphy, the financial success of the particular system employed would be automatically secured, and the public of both countries would have at its disposal a wireless telegraph which would be equal if not superior to the present submarine cable service.

It is almost impossible to imagine the columns of European news now transmitted every day to the American papers being transmitted equally well and equally quickly without the aid of any wire telegraph, that is the possibility which is now being seriously considered. It may be taken for granted, whatever the immediate results of these experiments, that they would not have been undertaken unless there seemed to be a strong probability of the new wireless system displacing the cable.

TO SMOKERS.

It is a well-known fact, admitted by the EGYPTIAN CIGARETTE MANU-FACTURERS themselves, that Cigarettes imported from Egypt are made from TURKISH TOBACCO, which is subject to a heavy Import Duty in Egypt. Hongkong being a Free Port tobacco can be imported free of duty.

Two Good Reasons why it is advantageous to Smoke my Cigarettes.

1.—Cheapness of my Cigarettes compared to imported cigarettes, owing to tobacco being admitted duty-free into Hongkong, and that you are buying direct from the Manufacturer, doing away with middlemen's profits.

2.—Freshness of my Cigarettes, as they are made daily for each day's consumption, which makes it impossible to have an old stock of Cigarettes, as is very likely with imported Cigarettes.

The following is a list of my Cigarettes made from the Best Turkish Tobacco at from 40% to 50% cheaper than imported cigarettes of equal quality.

FRENCH COLLIERY DISASTER.

WHEN a terrible disaster such as that reported at the colliery at Lille occurs people begin to realise that the division of the peoples of the world into nationalities is only artificial. In the presence of a great calamity which smites with the flail of misery many thousands of homes racial prejudices are swept away by a flood of sympathy. Everyone who reads of hundreds of men being suddenly swept out of existence in the gloomy depths of the French coalmines must reflect upon the awful hazards which attend the labours of those whose toil supplies the necessities of the world. The price has to be paid for the conveniences and elegancies with which we are surrounded, and it is well that we should have this fact impressed upon our minds occasionally. Whatever cynics may say in regard to the selfishness and baseness of human nature these great calamities serve to show that the beautiful sentiment of sympathy is not dead but merely dormant.

From all parts of France contributions we learn are flowing to the relief of the tens of scores of hapless families who at one blow have been deprived of their means of sustenance. Terrible as was the death of the miners their sufferings were providentially short. But it is the weak and helpless women and children upon whom the blow descended most heavily. Without a moment's warning from each home the one person who stood between them and the awfulness of abject poverty has been taken away. The sufferings of the bruised hearts at losing the loved ones are too holy for us to refer to here; it is better that we should confine ourselves to the material conditions brought about by the catastrophe. The misery and distress caused to the families of the miners is not unfortunately, the sole result of the accident.
In every mining town there are numbers of tradespeople and others whose welfare is entirely dependent upon the prosperity of the miners. Railway employees and scores of other working men, who have nothing whatever to do with mining directly, will feel the effect of the calamity which has overtaken the colliery. With confidence we expect that big-hearted Britain will do its duty in succouring the distressed. It requires no entente cordiale to loosen John Bull's purse-strings when the sound of women and children wailing for bread wounds his ear. The starving people in Japan are now blessing his benevolence; let us hope, our cousins across the English Channel will realise that there is no line of demarcation of caste or creed or country recognised by the British when their help is required.

It does not appear to be simple child's play to cater for a ship's crew, judging from certain statements made in the New South Wales Arbitration Court. One witness, a member of a firm of tugboat owners, said he preferred the system under which the owners would be freed from the duty of providing, since it was so difficult to please the men, who all wanted to be served alike. "If an egg is seen going to one end of the table," he explained, "they all want eggs, and the same with pickles, and anything else." It seemed to be their nature, when they paid for the food themselves, to be satisfied with that which would not please them if it were provided by the owners. Then there was the additional risk that a man would leave before the end of the month, and forget to pay his bill. This, he said, has been done recently in one case, and the captain of the boat, who was responsible for the money, and collected it at the end of the month, had been thus victimised to the extent of £2. The witness amused the Court considerably by relating a case in which a crew had consumed so much butter in the early part of the month, that when the 12th day came, they had eaten their allowance, and the cook, who was presumably in charge of the arrangements for food supplies, announced his inexorable decision that there was to be no more butter on board the ship till the end of the month—from the 12th till the 31st.
Whether the men would have quietly acquiesced in this decision had it come from the owners of the boat, instead of the cook, is a matter for speculation.

Death is hardly a subject to wax humorous over, but the eccentricities of undertakers and others who are associated with the last duties have always been a popular subject with some writers.
Thus in a recent issue of the Nation (New York) an editorial is devoted to a consideration of certain possibilities attendant upon the formation of a Funeral Drivers' Union. Says the paper:—Now that the Union has been organized here, and the closed shop agreed upon, deaths and burials will no doubt be put on a far more business-like basis. It has long been a cause of complaint that thoughtless people choose exceedingly inconvenient hours and places for departing this life. Hereafter, persons wishing to die will be notified to do so between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., with an hour off at noon for dinner. Deaths occurring after hours or on Sundays or holidays will be charged for at the rate of time and half-time. No person will be accepted for burial unless he has a union card in his pocket.
Walking delegates will supplant clergymen at the services. Contracts may be entered into with the New York Central and Interborough Railway Companies to arrange all accidents according to a systematic plan, say, on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons, thus not interfering with the Saturday half-holiday. Visitors to cemeteries in the Bronx will be required to go by the Union Railway, in which case they will probably be old enough when they get there to know better than to come back.
In that way they will spare the funeral drivers needless work. Finally, the old-fashioned "At Rest" on tombstones will be discarded in favor of a neat union label.

some table of sailing dates from the Mes-sagerie Maritimes Co. The calendar gives the dates movements of all the company's steamers.

The objection of Mr. Kato, who has just resigned the Foreign portfolio, to the nationalisation of the railways on the ground that it is unwise to raise a large loan at this time, is shared by the Japan Times.

For the pleasure of those who like memorabilia of important happenings the Singapore Free Press has reproduced in dainty letter form its reports on the visit of the Prince to the southern port. The souvenir is attractively got up.

A Canadian and an Australian were charged, at the Magistracy this morning,

INCREASE OF INDIANS.

No Chinese Consultative Committee.

(From Our Correspondent.)
SHANGHAI, March 14.

At a meeting of the Ratepayers Committee yesterday it was decided to increase the Indian police to 1,000 men.

The proposal to establish a Chinese Consultative Committee on the Municipal Council, was defeated.

[Dr Gilbert Reid of Shanghai, has expressed his view regarding the Chinese Consultative Committee in the following terms:—"This Committee means business.
High thinking will be required of the Municipal Councilors will be tested. The only body is as official as the other. Advice concerning the wishes and needs and well-being of the Chinese community has always been ready to hand, but now it will be authoritative. The two bodies, if I am anything of a prophet, sooner or later must collide, and back of the six are 400,000.
These six, I earnestly believe, are peace-loving men, but such a collision under such a backing will mean more excitement than has yet been witnessed. The scheme is to be swallowed with a grain of salt!"

TRYING TO DRAW THE BADGER.

Sir Henry Wants No Foolery.

(Exclusive Service, supplied by Reuters, via Bombay.)
LONDON, March 13.

During a debate in the House of Commons both Mr Balfour and Mr Chamberlain pressed the Prime Minister, Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman, to define protection.

The speakers made a special point of the Indian tariff, and asked whether it was not protective.

Mr Chamberlain, failing to obtain an answer, moved the adjournment of the House.

Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman declared that he had no reply to give to Mr Balfour's facilities and dialectic, which were useless in the new House.

"He had," he warmly declared,
"had enough of this foolery."

The motion for the adjournment of the House was rejected by 405 votes to 115.

The debate was then adjourned.

sum of £30,000 to the Couriers relief fund. The roll call shows that 1,150 have
